There is no miracle about the wonderful value involvedno slight of hand work. I simply decided to pay our makers more money for boys' clothes than most dealers do, and that is the reason I can offer you more value.

Then again, I would rather make two blades of grass grow where only one grew before-I would rather make a little profit on the sale of two suits than a big profit on the sale of only one. And that is exactly what I am doing. Learn more about Seder's Clothes-I'm here every day to show you.

LADIES

couldn't be more becoming, made of such soft, sumptuous cloths, Bolivia, Vicuna, Wool or Silk Velours; all cut long and extremely full. Their very simplicite lends youth to the figure. And the collars! They are not collars but capes which on cold days can be buttoned sungly under the chin. The predominating colors are rich Burgundy and plum, rose-taupe, Java brown, green and mustard. Navy and black of course, are always popular. Prices from $7.45 to $35.00.

SEPARATE SKIRTS

are going to be worn more than ever. They are serges. broadcloths, gabardines, poplins and mixtures, and satins -draped, pleated, sashed and trimmed in every conceivable way. Warm plaids and stripes lead in popularity, with draped and flounced black satins a close second. Prices $2.45 to $9.98. CHILDREN'S COATS are of the newest materials, made stylishly to please the young folks. Any shade desired. Prices $2.98, $3.98, this year have skirts a trifle longer and just as full as ever. Suit coats are nipped in slightly at the waist in the back, with a long full ripple below. Collars are larger, and often made of velvet or fur. Prices range from $15.00 to $35.00.

LADIES

THE DRESSES

were never more lovely. The Moyen Age and Princess influence is discernable in the straight lines and shortened waist. Beginning with a serge dress at $5.98 the prices run up to $19.98.

The two chief among these was the first decision not to hold the W. D. On the whole, however, the fair came through registering one of its best successes; so, considering the handicaps, the success is really greater than usual Track Record-Time 2.19 1-2-Fair Thursday was horse day at the Brooklyn fair, the equine entries tak-ing to themselves the greater part of

During the forenoon there was a display of brood mares and colts, two and three-year-olds, stallions, matched pairs and other classes of horses, the spectators being chiefly persons who are interested generally in horses.

During the afternoon the track was again the chief center of interest, the events including a free for all race, trot or pace, and a three minute class, with a gentlemen's driving class and a ladies' driving class of horses shown Mary Ann's Speed a Surprise. The mare Mary Ann was driven by P. Clancy, and first lowered the track record from 2.19 3-4 to 2.19 1-2. This was unlooked for on account of the poor condition of the track, although the mare did not seem to be unsteady at any part of the mile. Again in the third heat she got away on the fly and paced the mile without a break and lowered her previous clip to 2,18 flat, which seemed to be too easy for her to accomplish.
